

Remembrance Day 2022

The Soldiers that lay in Flanders Field!

BY Lily Menhnick

In Flanders fields the Soldiers sleep as the red poppies grow
we shall cherish their kindness,
The red poppies bloom where the dead
Thinking and thinking of soldiers and gunnies that let them go

Here today we shall keep their faith and their peace where they lay
Red poppies bloom and grow here today
I am thanking of the soldiers who lay in Flanders Field.

R.I.P.

Lest we forget!

This morning we all went down to the War Memorial and joined members of the public for Remembrance; many who commented on how much they enjoyed sharing this time of reflection with the children and how impressed they were with their respectful behaviour and lovely poems which were read aloud.
